NEXT TUESDAY'S ELECTION AND PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

IT is the duty of every citizen-voter to cast his ballot on Tuesday of next week when the country will vote for a President.

This campaign has not been as aggressive as in other years. The Republican, opposing party, has had little if anything to offer in place of the Democrats and the things for which the party's nominee represents. In fact, nothing constructive. Only criticism.

The country asked for a new deal. President Roosevelt assumed duties of his office at a time when the country was at the lowest ebb of depression. He granted what the people asked. Relief for a vast country was the cry. Millions asked for work and money from the federal treasury. It was necessary to save the country from chaos and possibly revolution. Just to what extent President Roosevelt succeeded in turning the tide of the evils of a great depression are best known to the unbiased and grateful. Former President Hoover said "prosperity was around the corner." This was practicing a deception and well the country is aware of such an empty remark.

There is every indication President Roosevelt will be re-elected next Tuesday. He proved his worth and value to the country. The people are going to return him to office in order the so auspiciously begun work may be continued and the program of relief and reconstruction continued to a full sense of accomplishment.

With all regard to Gov. Landon, the Republican party has no great leader just now. It has no big man to come forward with a following. We are of the opinion the people of this great country will not repudiate President Roosevelt. His critics are born of faction; of men seeking place and financial preferment. It is another illustration of the outs versus the ins. An old political story that has no place in the scheme and things of men and women of today.

HARVEST QUEEN FESTIVAL.

AN established custom Bay St. Louis and vicinity will this Friday evening celebrate the crowning of a harvest queen and festival to follow at the local college gym.

The event is one of timely interest since it marks a time at a period of its full zenith. Fall colors and decoration of kindred atmosphere will be used profusely. The golden color will predominate. For weeks parties in charge have been busily engaged in preparing for this setting. This evening will be revealed a gorgeous combination of the yellow and gold, the russet and the scarlet colors of the autumn leaf as the trees shed their garb of passive green for the brilliant hues of the matured season.

Queen and members of a large court were carefully selected. Youth, beauty and gallantry will combine and vie in the attractiveness of the setting.

Each year the financial returns of this festival are appropriated to a cause selected by the Mothers' Club, of St. Stanislaus college, under the auspices of which organization the festival is presented.

There will be a large attendance this Friday evening. It is a community project and worthy of co-operation.

ABSENT VOTING STATUTE.

THERE is a well-established sentiment over the State for the return of an absent voting statute, and this bids fair to crystallize to that point where the matter will be brought to the attention of the legislature in a form that will possibly mean for its adoption.

Mississippi had an absent voting ballot law, but why it was repealed has never been made clear. It must be fundamentally sound for it prevails in other States. There are only a few States where the law does not exist. A contemporary says these are New Jersey, Maryland, Kentucky, Louisiana, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

A citizen's right to vote is not to be jeopardized because of the mere fact he or she might be unavoidably detained out of the State on day of election. Every qualified voter has the right to cast his ballot. There should be no barrier nor handicap. The fact someone is ill or away should not deprive the right of exercising right of suffrage.

We hope this matter will receive the attention of the Legislature and the absentee voting statute be reenacted. If the former one had its deficiencies or evils these could be easily remedied.

Coming: Thanksgiving Day, Red Cross Roll Call, Shop Early, First Day of Winter, Christmas and New Year.

Stars on the gridiron this fall might stop long enough to ask themselves the question, "where are the stars of 1935?"

Serious statistics: Hunters spend around $750,000,000 a year, and the question is how much does this mean per bird?

Personally, we will be glad when the election is over and the nation can turn its attention to routine matters, including paying subscriptions.

There may have been, some years ago, a campaign manager willing to admit that the other party would carry a few States but today every body alleges that one party will carry every State. The only argument between them is which party.

STATE'S PART IN CENTENNIAL IS WASHOUT.

THIS is the caption of a news story of Governor White and official party's trip to the Texas Centennial last week. The press story from Dallas said "The Texas Centennial may be a great show and announce Mississippi Day celebration, but the several thousand Magnolia Staters who came for the event with Governor White at their head found themselves only so many more paying customers."

The story continues on in this vein: Not to be daunted by the calling off of most of the programmed "Mississippi Day" events, the Mississippi party hired themselves a band and staged their own program.

Spirits of the party dampened at the outset when the special trains rolled into Dallas in a downpour of rain. The reception committee was rained out.

Friday night, the Mississippi party going in a special caravan to the livestock arena at the Centennial and led by Governor White and James Alfred found themselves stopped at the gate and forced to pay admission.

Later, the Mississippi party held their own party after hiring an orchestra and taking over the roof of the Adolphus hotel, where Paul Melon, a former Jacksonian, is assistant manager.

Saturday's program was also called off, and Governor Alfred went to Oklahoma to fill an appointment.

Governor White had a speech to deliver Saturday morning, and made a part of it in the lobby of the Adolphus hotel. He paid tribute to those Mississippians who played important roles in the early history of Texas.

The party later headed for Fort Worth Sunday, with Col. Phil Kimball of Jackson, serving as master of ceremonies, and hoped for better times ahead, which were realized.

It appears as far as the public side of the trip and functions were concerned the visit was a frost, but the resourcefulness of the party to make it one big private affair proved one of more satisfaction and delight than it could have been otherwise. It was a "situation of 'All's well that ends well.'"

EDUCATION SHOULD BE PROFITABLE.

THE people of this country have been liberal in their attitude toward taxation intended to support the public school system. They have been convinced for years that money expended for education returns attractive dividends in later years. This long-continued faith on the part of taxpayers, however, can be lost if the schools fail to deliver the goods.

Such a conclusion may shock those citizens who are inclined to worship education as an end in itself. Intelligence, while desirable can, under some circumstances, be a curse to the individual. It should be the function of our schools not only to make students more intelligent but also to make certain the reasonable success of the person educated.

With this in mind, many of the schools of the country have inclined their courses of study toward practical development of the talents of the student. While there is room for the classics in our school system, they no longer dominate the educational field as in years past. In their place are courses plainly designed to assist boys and girls toward an economic success in subsequent life.

The literary education of the individual is not to be denied but, just as important, it should not be regarded as a necessity for every student. High schools and colleges should not bend pupils to exacting standards, but, on the other hand, should more properly unbend to promote the development of the individual pupil to assist him or her to become a coordinating unit of society in all phases of human life.

This does not necessarily mean the scrapping of tested principles of education, although it implies efforts in directions not comprehended along classical or literary lines. Nor does it always follow that the school with the broadest curriculum is the institution meeting the new trends in education. Back of physical plants and technical arrangements, the successful training of students depends upon personnel to a degree that goes much farther than mere technical preparation to teach.

GOV. WHITE'S WARNING IN VICE WAR.

THAT section of Rankin county adjoining Hinds county in which Jackson, the State Capital is located, has ever been a thorn in the side of law-abiding folk. That section of Rankin in question is in such close juxtaposition to Jackson that it affects that city directly and is known as the "Rankin Gold Coast."

Governor White has given that hint that is sufficient to the wise. His warning is directed at the operators of saloons and gambling halls that prey on the population of the capital city. He is quoted as saying that "if they continue to run they are taking a wide open chance, and this is not going to be a 'plaything.' Depending upon the information as to what is going on, the Governor is quoted, if necessary, he will send the national guard, headed by Gen. John A. O'Keefe.

This is quite drastic. Possibly the situation calls for such action. One thing can be depended on, the Governor always does what he says he is going to do.

SOMETHING ABOUT FIREARMS.

TWO boys were playing cowboy and Indian the other day. One had a small calibre rifle, pointed at the other when the father stepped between them. He was fatally wounded when the shot was fired accidentally by the younger of his sons.

A few minutes before, the man had been target shooting with his boys in the yard of their home. He probably gave them the gun as a present, with the idea that a boy should "know something" about firearms. He probably did not stop to think that a firearm in the hands of a youngster is potentially a death-dealing weapon.

Individuals will do well to engage some of their time in worthwhile work, whether for money, for the good of the community or for their own good.

INTERESTING NEWS ITEMS OF THE MOVIES AND FILM FOLK IN HOLLYWOOD

PAULINE Goddard, who has been reported married to Charles Chaplin on various occasions, has been enjoying a vacation in New York with her mother as her companion. She will start rehearsals in a few weeks for the next Chaplin picture.

Roubin Mamoulian can cut all of the close-ups of Nino Martini in his picture, "The Gay Desperado," in which the star had his mouth stretched wide open. One hears his voice but doesn't see his tonsils.

Greta Garbo's name is being coupled in a romantic way with that of Robert Taylor. But that usually happens with every new leading man of Miss Garbo's. It's good publicity.

Flora Finch, former star, has appeared in 1,000 films during twenty-seven years.

The entire family of Bobby Breen have changed their name from Borsuk to Breen.

Ann Harding has petitioned the court to let her keep her daughter in England six months longer.

Charles Boyer receives $40,000 a picture from his own studio, but he asks $75,000 when he is loaned out.

An eye infection is the latest malady to affect William Powell.

Robert Taylor, the most brilliant star to rise in 1936, is reported to get only $750 weekly, which is a mere pittance to that of other leading players. He is bound by a seven-year contract.

Chicago and its big fire is the next major catastrophe to be put in the movies. This is the direct result of the big hit made by the earthquake in "San Francisco."

Seventy-nine per cent of the letters Myrna Loy receives from men are proposals of marriage. Joan Crawford comes second with a large number of like proposals.

Janet Gaynor is free-lancing for the first time in eleven years. Her next picture will be with Frederic March in "A Star Is Born."

"Mother Carey's Chickens," which was to have been a vehicle for Ginger Rogers, has been laid away in favor of another Astaire-Rogers film, "Stepping Out."

Marlene Dietrich is in London making "Knights in Armor," or rather playing the lead in that production. It is a dramatic story of Russia during the revolution.

Jean Harlow is to have the feminine lead in "The Foundry." Wallace Beery, Spencer Tracy and James Stewart also have roles in the same picture.

Lee Tracy is to appear as an unscrupulous attorney in "Criminal Lawyer," from the story by Louis Stevens.

"Mannequin," the latest novel by Katherine Brush, is to be made into a picture. Miss Brush wrote the hit, "Red-Headed Woman."

Billie Burke is to play Joan Crawford's older sister in "Parnell." Clark Gable is to be the hero and Edna Mae Oliver is to be Aunt Ben.

Bonita Granville, the had little girl in "These Three," is to be in "Quality Street" with Katherine Hepburn and Franchot Tone.

George and Ira Gershwin are to write "Rhapsody in Hollywood," for Samuel Goldwyn.

Pat Harrison Invades Seven States Aiding Democratic Party

Senator Pat Harrison has started on his final speaking tour in behalf of the Democratic ticket, and will be absent from Washington until after the election on November 3rd.

The tour will carry Mississippi's senior senator into the states of Maryland, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Iowa, with two speeches per day in the larger cities of each of those states. "As the election draws nearer I feel more confident of the re-election of President Roosevelt and triumph for the New Deal," says Senator Harrison.

"Probably the New England states can be conceded to Landon, although New Hampshire is in doubt. New Jersey may be in the Republican column this year. Landon may carry Kansas, his home state, and possibly North Dakota. The other states can safely be counted for Roosevelt. New York is in good shape and our prospects in Pennsylvania are excellent."

It now appears probable that Senator Harrison will not submit his recommendation to Attorney-General Cummings of a new federal judge for Mississippi until some time in December, and it might not take place until Congress convenes in January.

CONCEDING DEFEAT

(Jackson News)

THE Washington Star, ordinarily independent in politics but now Republican, virtually concedes the election of Roosevelt. It summarizes electoral college in order to Landon: Sure, 50; leaning 104; total, 153.

Roosevelt: Sure, 150; leaning 75; total, 225.

Doubtful: 153.

Necessary for election: 266. In other words, Roosevelt has only 11 votes to gain in the electoral college in order to win, while Landon must gain 117.

A concession of that sort from the Washington Star is equivalent to conceding defeat to the Republican ticket.

RELIEFERS

The number of families or single persons on relief in September was 4,547,000. This is about 600,000 more than in July, 1933. During the same period, unemployment decreased from fifteen to nine million, according to the American Federation of Labor. While the relief rolls continue to grow, there is every reason to believe that continued business recovery will permit some of these persons to gradually find employment.

Typhoon damage heavy in Japan; Emperor is driven to cover.

committee voted that as whole it would hold regular monthly sessions on the first Tuesday of each month, the Chair having the right to call the committee in session at will. The committee further voted that the Chairman appoint two sub-committees to remain in session until the next meeting—one to handle relief funds and research. The subcommittee on relief funds consists of Messrs. E. W. Clinton, J. A. Phillips and E. B. Livingston. The subcommittee on misbillings and research is composed of Chairman Watson, Senators G. B. Herring and J. H. Culin. Chairman Watson states that more than 100 indictments have been obtained by the Committee already.

Six Years' Broadcasting

The Secretary of State on Thursday, October 15, completed six years of weekly broadcasts over Station W. J. D. X. under the head of "State's Business." This broadcasting station of the Lamar Life Insurance Company was formally opened December, 1929, and about the middle of October, 1930, through the courtesy of the owners and management, W. J. D. X. was made available for a number of state departments to make weekly addresses, and with the exception of a few omissions, Secretary of State Walker Wood, or one of his assistants, has availed themselves of this generous offer to give radio listeners a few facts weekly.

Nervous, Weak Woman Soon All Right
"I had regular shaking spells from nervousness," writes Mrs. Cora Sanders, of Pascagoula, Ark. "I was all run-down and cramped at my time until I would have to get up. After my first bottle of Cardui, I was better. I kept taking Cardui and soon I was all right. The shaking quit and I did not cramp. I felt worlds better. I gave Cardui to my daughter who was in about the same condition and was soon all right."
Thousands of women today Cardui benefited them. It does not benefit you unless it is genuine.

TO MARY—WITH LOVE STRIKES DEEP AND SURE AT LOVE TODAY

Warner Baxter and Myrna Loy Star—At A. & G. Theater Sunday and Monday.

A story that strikes deep and sure at love today comes to the A. & G. Theater Sunday and Monday in the Twentieth Century-Fox production of Richard Shennan's sensationally successful novel of modern romance, "To Mary—With Love." Warner Baxter and Myrna Loy, together for the third time cinematically, are co-starred and their performances opposite each other are said to surpass the heights they reached in "Broadway Bill" and "Penthouse." Ian Hunter, as Myrna's childhood sweetheart who still loves her, and Claire Trevor, as the good-time girl who almost disrupts the romance, are featured in the cast which also includes Jean Dixon.

A love-letter romance, "To Mary—With Love," opens with the marriage of Baxter and Miss Loy. Best man is Ian Hunter who hides his regret with a grin, at seeing Myrna's happiness in Baxter's arms. Making love lightly, yet loving deeply, they move through their honeymoon and then return to New York where Baxter plunges into the stock market, intent on accumulating a fortune. So occupied is he that Myrna takes a summer trip to Maine alone. Returning home earlier than expected, she finds that Baxter has been so lonesome as supposed but, instead, has been entertaining Claire Trevor.

This is the first flaw in their happiness and, although they patch it up, the scars still linger. Baxter returns to his manipulations in finance and, as the market rises, becomes wealthy. Money doesn't bring happiness to the pair, however, for Myrna finds too much time on her hands and becomes intimate with a group of parasites and questionable friends.

Just as it appears that their marriage must break up, the market crashed and Myrna finds that her husband needs her more than ever. From their penthouse they go to live in a shabby suburban bungalow. Baxter is unable to comprehend what has happened and Myrna is unable to convince him that he should get a job—any kind of a job. Hiding their hurts and holding back their tears, Myrna and Baxter rise gallantly and splendidly from their misfortune and find a new and greater love to reward them.

FORMER BAY RESIDENT MEETS DEATH UNDER ODD CIRCUMSTANCE

Mrs. Daisy Duval Dies Shortly After Falling Against Automobile Fender.

Victim of an unusual accident in New Orleans last Thursday, Mrs. Daisy Duval, wife of the late S. R. Duval, former residents of Bay St. Louis, died at the charity hospital at New Orleans Friday.

Mrs. Duval, who was in her seventieth year, was down town crossing one of the busy streets. Passing by a temporarily parked car, she slipped and the weight of her body was thrown against one of the fenders, after which she fell. She died a few hours later and an autopsy revealed that she had been injured to the extent that an artery in the thigh had been severed in addition to other injuries that contributed to her somewhat sudden end. She was of recent years an inmate of the Flink Home, an Episcopal church institution for aged and lone women located in the upper section of the city.

Mrs. Duval resided in Bay St. Louis some years ago when her husband was alive and, while his business office was in New Orleans, the Duval home was here. Mr. Duval was an architect by profession and constructed the local Episcopal church frequently and from time to time when there was no rector.

He designed and lived in the dwelling now occupied by Senator Carl Marshall and family and also was the architect of the Merchants Bank & Trust Company, at the intersection of Railroad rightway and Beach Boulevard and also of the residence of W. J. Gex, Sr., and the late R. R. Perkins and possibly other structures.

Mrs. Duval was well and widely known and her unexpected demise will be learned with more than ordinary regret.

Federal Community Aid Club Organized By Kiln Colored
A community aid meeting for the colored people was organized at the Kiln by Mrs. Emily Lacoste and Mrs. Pedro Monti representatives of the W. P. A. Housekeepers Aid Project. There were thirty-five members present. Minnie Robinson was elected president; Lulu Swan, secretary; Lucile Harris, treasurer.

Mrs. Lacoste explained that the object of this particular work was to help in the community and homes to teach home nursing, sewing and in fact, to help use what resources they had in improving their conditions. They decided to work for a loan closet for the sick and the first articles made would be bed pads and rag rugs.

The song, "When Shall I hear my mother pray again," was sung by the members. There being no further business the meeting was adjourned.
